

Brick and stamping

Mr. Poe had an abundance of clay that he used to manufacture bricks and utilitarian pottery and stamped them with his signature. Using the model magic clay try and make your own brick or pottery design and “stamp” it with your signature using the toothpick. Example:

Brick and stamping

Mr. Poe had an abundance of clay that he used to manufacture bricks and utilitarian pottery and stamped them with his signature. Using the model magic clay try and make your own brick or pottery design and “stamp” it with your signature using the toothpick. Example:

Brick and stamping

Mr. Poe had an abundance of clay that he used to manufacture bricks and utilitarian pottery and stamped them with his signature. Using the model magic clay try and make your own brick or pottery design and “stamp” it with your signature using the toothpick. Example:

Growing up, Lillie kept a diary on and off where she'd document her days. Whether it was mundane things like the weather or more exciting things like a Halloween party, she'd write it down. Try keeping a diary of your own using the notebook provided! Remember, this is your diary so you can write about whatever you'd like!

Excerpts from Lillie's Diary

Saturday April 23, 1904

Fair and warm. Went to pratice over to Mrs. Morrow's. I went to the book club at Margaret Broadfoot. I went to see Elisabeth Holt. Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Jewett came here.

Wednesday Aug 30, 1905.

Fair and warm. Dixie, Sister, Josie and I went down town.

Tuesday, Jan. 19, 1909

Margaret Cotton is going to have a party to night. I am to go with one of the Military boy's Dan McDonal.

Mr. Reid would not let the boys go wasn't that terrible so Frances, Eunice Belle and I all had to go with Edmund. Dear old Edmund always comes to the rescue

Growing up, Lillie kept a diary on and off where she'd document her days. Whether it was mundane things like the weather or more exciting things like a Halloween party, she'd write it down. Try keeping a diary of your own using the notebook provided! Remember, this is your diary so you can write about whatever you'd like!

Excerpts from Lillie's Diary

Saturday April 23, 1904

Fair and warm. Went to pratice over to Mrs. Morrow's. I went to the book club at Margaret Broadfoot. I went to see Elisabeth Holt. Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Jewett came here.

Wednesday Aug 30, 1905.

Fair and warm. Dixie, Sister, Josie and I went down town.

Tuesday, Jan. 19, 1909

Margaret Cotton is going to have a party to night. I am to go with one of the Military boy's Dan McDonal.

Mr. Reid would not let the boys go wasn't that terrible so Frances, Eunice Belle and I all had to go with Edmund. Dear old Edmund always comes to the rescue