Think about what it would have been like to travel in a steamboat on the Cape Fear River. How exciting would it be to get to the coast in such a short amount of time? Would you be scared about how dangerous it could be to travel on steamboats? What would you see along the riverbank as you traveled? Once you arrived in Wilmington?