

Instructions

Gourd Coloring:

You'll need:

- 1 gourd (included)
- Markers

Gourds were used by American Indians for many different purposes. First, before they hardened, as food. Then hardened gourds could be used as cups and bowls, instruments, or canvases for art. Using markers, draw a picture or color a pattern onto your own gourd.

Maize making:

You'll need:

- 1 prepackaged kit (included)

Maize was a crucial part of American Indian life, and quickly became a staple for the first Europeans arriving in the New World. Follow the instructions in your corn making kit to make your own little piece of maize!
